A Note from Pam:

By Pam Rinehart, KCCA Administrator

In our family, one of my favorite traditions of the Thanksgiving holiday is taking time to go around the table and share what each person is thankful for. For some, this tradition comes easy; for others, it is a struggle.

This tradition will most likely be shared virtually this year, but none the less will still hold a place of importance. For even amidst these challenging times, there is plenty to be grateful for. Maybe it is the mere fact of a breath drawn on a new day, the eyes enjoying a sight that brought the heart joy, a warm blanket wrapped around shoulders like a tight hug, or perhaps it is a smile that was sent when needed most.

Before you enjoy the bounty of food that is on your table, no matter what that looks like for you, your friends, family, loved ones and neighbors, I hope you are able to take just a moment to reflect on the many things there are to be thankful for, even in a year where everything is a bit different.

May you all have a safe Thanksgiving Holiday!

Thanksgiving memories

By Terry Pittsley

Thanksgiving! I remember it was fun, hectic, crowded, and exhausting. You see, I had 11 siblings, 6 boys, and 5 girls. We never all lived together because my oldest sisters were grown and in high school when my family up and moved to Peoria, Illinois from a little town outside of Hannibal, Missouri about 1955. My two older sisters stayed with friends in Missouri to finish high school. That left two teenage boys, an older sister, my younger sister, and 2 younger boys (soon to be two more) to make it 11 in the family. Usually, there were 10 of us for meals including mom and dad. We were poor and didn't know it.

We always had a big round oak table with 3 leaves. Even with the table opened to the fullest, we couldn't all fit around it so some of us ate on the couch or chairs in the living room and some sat on a bunk bed in what used to be the dining room that was turned into a bedroom for the boys.

Thanksgiving Dinner was usually what my Dad and older brothers got while hunting or fishing. I remember one year it was Raccoon on the menu and on another, venison was roasted. The most festive was if Dad and brothers shot a goose or two. Mom would roast them to a golden brown and with the addition of mashed potatoes, candied sweet potatoes, green beans gravy, and pie. It was a feast.

The laughter and camaraderie were deafening at times. We didn't care if we ate turkey or chicken or coon. It was a holiday and by golly we celebrated.

As we got older and left home to go out into the world, we would establish different customs for our families, but Thanksgiving at Mom and Dad's was always an open invitation if we chose to attend with our families. That added around 15 kids and 6 more adults to the already boisterous crowd. Now we spread out to the floor in the living room and the bunk bed in the girls' room as well as the boy's room to have a place to sit. Balancing a plate became a great trick. Doing the dishes was a task that we girls all pitched in with.

Plant In The Fall For A Gift In The Spring

By Chad Darnell, Al's Garden Center

Have you ever planted a healthy shrub and then watch it struggle to survive? So much of that pain can be avoided if we follow the "right plant, right place" philosophy. This means that you decide not to fight the shade or sun in your garden, but choose the plant that will thrive in the existing conditions. "Right plant, right place" is sound advice that, if given and heeded early enough, prevents beginners from pulling their hair out.

During this time of year, we will even add to that prudent advice: "right plant, right place...at the right time! For those of us new to the gardening game, you may not realize that fall is the absolute best time for planting.

Fall Really Is The Best Time To Do Your Landscape Planting.

Take advantage and extend your planting season this year. The ground is still warm and the welcome rainy days will give a newly planted tree or shrub a chance to establish its roots before winter sets in.

According to Al's Growing Guide on the Advantages of Fall Planting, the cool evenings, and eventually cooler days of autumn, will slow down the loss of moisture through 'transpiration' (plants' loss of water through their leaves). New plantings don't dry out as quickly as in the intense spring sun. The soil is still warm, until a cold soaking rain, and warmth encourages root development.

Planting in the withering summer heat can take its toll and Oregon gardeners seem to prefer getting out into the crisp autumn air to dig in the dirt and experience the changing seasons from the front row. Just be sure to plant six weeks before the ground freezes - any time before mid-November should be safe.

November Home Landscape of the Month

This month's landscape belongs to Patty McEvoy on Queen Ann. Patty and her husband Donald moved here from Tillamook in 2013. She lives with a sweet lump of a white dog named Snow.

Her home reminds me of a southern home, with the flowering cherry in the yard. It is very large and when it blooms it is just amazing. Her roses on the edge of the yard lend a nice pop of color. The entire home is beautiful, and is a fine example of one of our beautiful homes here in King City. So, if you happen to catch Patty in the library

(she volunteers once a week and mentioned that they are still looking for volunteers) say and let her know what you think of her home!

We would love any suggestions that you may have candidates for Home Landscape of the Month. Drive by a house and like it? Let us know the address. Have a neighbor (or even yourself) that has a great landscape? Let us know. Simply email us at office@kccahoa.com, call the office and leave them your information or drop a note in the drop box in front of the Clubhouse.

Meet Maxwell

Hi there, my name is Maxwell. Max for short. I am a 10-year-old chocolate and caramel Chihuahua. I was raised for the first five years of my life as a snowbird in a 39-foot motorhome with Keith and Chris Walbridge. I did learn that when both of them went into register in different parks, if I stood on the steering wheel, a very loud horn would blare, and boy could they run back to the coach fast. Going from park to park I learned that I had to learn to use my inside voice so I wouldn't bother our neighbors. So yes, I do have an inside boof.

Max falls asleep while watching TV.

I love going to the coast. When I get on the sand I love to run. I also like to chase those big white and grey birds. But I don't like to go by the water. It's too big and it scares me. I don't even like bath water.

Max "driving" a car!

I am a little overweight, so I started going to TOPS. (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) Before the covid, we would go every Thursday to the meetings. I weighed in and had my weight recorded. I didn't partake in the meetings. I usually slept and snored through them in my buggy. Boy do I miss my TOPS girls.

My BFF in Mesa Arizona was a blind Dachshund named Chewie. Boy could he run and play. My aunt Cindy has three Pit bull mixes. Lucy is a Pitbull Dachshund mix, and I can take toys and bones away from her, and she cries.

Age has slowed me down some and changed the way I feel about things. I don't like the rain. I am afraid of flies. Yes, flies. I hide under the desk, the end tables and even my bed if there is one in the house. I am also afraid of black cats named Iggy. He growls at me and hits me. He's really mean. I'm a lover, not a fighter. I love people and always give lots of puppy kisses. But my all time favorite is rolling over and getting belly rubs.

Well, I guess that's all for now. I hope after all this smoke is gone, I can meet some of you on our walks.

Stay Safe and Happy,

Maxwell

King City Camera Club “Lift Off”

Submitted by Dick Wiggers

How many King City residents does it take to fell a tree? Only as many as you can round up at the sound of a chainsaw. Now granted, while COVID-19 is still hanging around, we’re all starved for a little socialization. So it doesn’t take much for an impromptu mini block party to break out.

These neighbors on Royalty Parkway found the perfect way to enjoy a beautiful fall morning. With little to no prompting, they grabbed their camp chairs, poured themselves a second cup of coffee, strolled across the street, and settled in to kibitz as they watched the experts cut down a lone, troublesome pine. Their spontaneous gathering reminded me of the “Solar Eclipse Watch Party” that took place on the front lawn of the clubhouse on August 21, 2017. Yes. We still yearn to be together, but for the time being, we just have to do it on a smaller scale.

Exercising our creative genes can be therapeutic; good for the body as well as the mind. For me and other members of the King City Camera Club, photography is a wonderful outlet to stay engaged with the world around us. Some days, as pictured, we only have to step across the street. On other days, we can venture out to nearby parks, the coast, the Gorge, or the mountains. Finding joy and satisfaction in photography doesn’t require a lot of expensive equipment or technical know-how. As you’ve probably heard before, the best camera is the camera you have with you. A friend remarked the other day, “I just bought a new camera. It came with a phone.”

If you’re interested in pursuing your own interest in photography, or you would like to see what our club is up to, check out our King

City Camera Club website. If you are interested in joining, the annual cost of membership per person is only $25 for King City residents and $30 for non King City residents. This modest fee allows members to submit digital images for the monthly competitions. Competing is optional. Members and guests are invited to take part in special guest presentations on Zoom the third Monday night each month. We’re excited about the next two photographers who will be presenting this fall: Chris Germano (Sports photography) on Monday, October 19; and Michael Gordon (Death Valley) on Monday, November 16.

Mom would have the younger boys do dishes during the week but for big gatherings, the girls did the dishes. I still remember Thanksgiving with the family. It was the second most important day... right after Christmas.

Can you imagine what Christmas Eve at my parent’s house? Bedlam, pandemonium, laughter, music, lots of love, food, and family.

Sweet Potato Pie

Submitted by Susan Kelso

- 1 lb sweet potato
- ½ cup butter softened
- ½ cup white sugar
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ½ milk
- 2 large eggs
- ½ tsp ground nutmeg (use fresh if possible!)
- ½ tsp cinnamon
- 1 tsp vanilla
- 1 (9 inch) unbaked pie crust (store-bought if you must)

Boil sweet potato whole in skin for 40 minutes or until tender. Allow to cool and remove the skin.

Break up the potato in a mixing bowl. Add butter and mix well with an electric mixer. Stir in sugar, milk, eggs, nutmeg, cinnamon, and vanilla. Beat on medium speed until the mixture is smooth. Pour into an unbaked pie crust.

Bake at 350 for 55 mins or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean. The pie should puff up like a souffle and then will sink down as it cools.

Side note 1: you can cover the edge of the crust with foil the first 30 mins to keep the color even.

Side note 2: you can make individual mini pies if you would like but bring the cooking time down accordingly.

This is a bit of a North Carolina specialty and when done right will beat out pumpkin pie every time!

My other recipe choice for this article was Brunswick stew which my father made every fall. A traditional Brunswick stew must include a head of a pig, boiled of course. I felt the sweet potato pie was a better choice.

You can always google the stew if you're interested!

Enjoy!

Fun By The Numbers

Like puzzles? Then you'll love sudoku. This mind-bending puzzle will have you hooked from the moment you square off, so sharpen your pencil and put your sudoku savvy to the test!

Here's How It Works:

Sudoku puzzles are formatted as a 9x9 grid, broken down into nine 3x3 boxes. To solve a sudoku, the numbers 1 through 9 must fill each row, column and box. Each number can appear only once in each row, column and box. You can figure out the order in which the numbers will appear by using the numeric clues already provided in the boxes. The more numbers you name, the easier it gets to solve the puzzle!
