REPORTS:

Greens report - Golf course superintendent Jeff Halfman

Golf course greens holding up well for all the hot weather the crew has had to deal with this summer. Course will will be closed on Sept. 13 for plugging and sanding. That means the new tractor did finally show up. After the maintenance crew is finished working on the greens it will be time to plug and sand the tee boxes and approaches.(twice a year event).

Flower beds still look good thanks to Brian's magic and spending hours bent over doing all the planting and watering and weeding.

New pump station is working great to keep things watered and looking nice. The pond is getting to the point of needing to be dredged. There are 696 sprinkler heads on the course.

Our golf course crew and equipment also maintains all common grounds so they have lots of work to do.

Men's Golf: Peter Ranslow Men's club bought new flags for the golf course this year and to bring things up to date a little, bought a complete supply of seed and sand for repair work on the tee box's last year ..

Ladies' Golf: Nancy Skirvin Many thanks to Jeff and crew for beautiful upkeep of the course and for the ladies flags. The annual ladies picnic was Sept first' Party on the patio. Our charity event to benefit the backpack program through the Food Bank. Non Perishable food items can be brought to the pro shop before Sept. 15th. This has been a successful charity project for a number of years.

Pro Shop :Joy Olmstead... report on an out of town group playing golf on our course and all gave many compliments on course condition and how nice the place looks. Thanks to the maintenance crew. And a pro-shop income report.

Dave Mack: Lawn Bowling

Not much activity this season. Summer heat , travel , health issues have slowed bowling down. Also Covid -19 and close contact and mask issues. Lawn Bowling area looking great considering all the hot weather.
